Dear Dr. Hsu,

Thank you for the opportunity to work on the "Machine Learn Your Way to March Madness Glory" project, and thank you for your responsiveness to our questions and requests. I enjoyed working with you and in a broader sense the Department of Biochemistry and Biophysics, a discipline of study I likely would've never encountered without having been assigned to this project. Under your guidance, I discovered a lot through my roles of GUI developer and machine learning algorithm implementer. I would love to hear about how you use the module and if you have any questions regarding it, feel free to email me, which is, of course, hoffer@oregonstate.edu. Thank you again for sponsoring our project and I hope you, me, and my teammates can make millions off of it someday.

Sincerely,

Alex Hoffer
